No. 54.—
The following Press Communiqué of the Government of India is republished.—

FINANCE DEPARTMENT (CENTRAL REVENUES).

New Delhi, the 6th April 1938.

The following revised procedure has been prescribed by the Board of Inland Revenue in the United Kingdom for the assessment to British Income-tax of the emoluments of officers going to Great Britain or Northern Ireland on leave from India commencing with the Income-tax year 1936-37.—

Officers going to Great Britain or Northern Ireland on leave, who maintain a residence there or, if they do not maintain a residence, spend six months or more of the Income-tax year in those countries, and officers going to either of those countries, with the intention of taking up residence there are liable to assessment to British Income-tax as persons residing in the United Kingdom.

It has been ruled that the India Office or the High Commissioner for India, as the case may be, is in law responsible for assessing and collecting tax on all payments made by either in respect of the year of charge, such payments including leave pay, overseas pay, remittances and allotments of pay and also arrears of pay issued in respect of that year, but not arrears of pay, etc., relating to previous years.

Advances drawn in the United Kingdom in respect of pay due after the date of embarkation on return to India will continue to be exempt from liability to British income-tax.

In the case of officers taking up residence in Great Britain or Northern Ireland on retirement or while on leave pending retirement, no liability to tax will arise in respect of payments made by the India Office or the High Commissioner for India prior to the date of arrival for the purpose of taking up residence in cases where a home has not previously been maintained in either of these countries.

As regards Provident Fund balances, no liability to United Kingdom tax will be claimed—

(a) where the balance is paid in rupees in India, whether the proceeds are remitted to the United Kingdom or not, or

(b) where the balance is paid in sterling, provided that in the case where the sterling payment is made in the United Kingdom, it is effected by means of a sterling bill sent by the Account Officer in India through an Exchange Bank in the United Kingdom

The following notes are intended as a guide to the basis of assessment of remittances to the United Kingdom out of pay arising in India :—

(1) Officers visiting the United Kingdom while on leave or privilege leave or leave on average pay and becoming liable as residents in the United Kingdom for the year of visit :—

(a) Where pay is issued in India in respect of the whole period of the visit (e.g., in the case of an officer visiting the United Kingdom while on privilege leave or leave on average pay on pay drawn in India), the liability for the year of visit is normally on the basis of the remittances made to or received in the United Kingdom in the preceding year.

Where, however, remittances out of Indian pay are first made to or received in the United Kingdom in the year of visit, or in the preceding year, other than on 6th April in that year, the liability for the year of visit is on the basis of the actual remittances of the year of visit.

(b) Where no pay is issued in India in respect of the Income-tax year in which the officer is chargeable as a resident or where pay is so issued in respect of a period commencing after 6th April in the said year, no liability will arise in respect of remittances out of pay earned in India prior to the year of visit.

(c) Where pay is issued in India in respect of part only of the Income-tax year of visit, i.e., where the full pay due becomes a charge on the funds of the India Office or the High Commissioner for India from 7th April or some later date in that year, the liability for that year in respect of remittances is on the remittances of the year of visit.

In none of the cases falling within (1) will the combined totals of the assessments on leave salary, allotments (or overseas pay) and remittances out of pay arising in India exceed the full pay for the year of visit.

(2) Officers going to the United Kingdom on retirement or on leave pending retirement with the intention of taking up residence there, or for transfer to the Home establishment—

(a) Where the date of arrival in the United Kingdom is not within the period for which pay has been issued in India there will be no liability in respect of remittances.

(b) Where the date of arrival in the United Kingdom is within the period for which pay has been calculated is within the year of arrival, liability will arise in respect of all remittances out of pay made to the United Kingdom in the year of arrival whether they reach the United Kingdom before or after the date of arrival. The liability will be restricted, however, so as not to charge a sum greater than the proportion appropriate to the period from the date of arrival to the end of the year of arrival, of the pay arising in India in that year.

(c) Where the date of arrival in the United Kingdom is within the period for which pay has been issued in India but the date up to which such pay has been calculated is in the year following the year of arrival the liability for the year of arrival, if there have been remittances out of pay in previous years, will normally be on the basis of the remittances reaching the United Kingdom in the year preceding the year of arrival, unless such remittances are less than the remittances reaching the United Kingdom in the year of arrival (whether before or after arrival) when the latter will form the basis of assessment. Where in such a case remittances have not been made in previous years, the assessment will in any case be based on the remittances of the year of arrival (whether reaching the United Kingdom before or after arrival). Moreover whether the "preceding" or the "current" year basis applies, the assessment will if necessary be restricted to the proportion appropriate to the period from the date of arrival to the end of the year of arrival of the full pay arising in India for the basis year.

The liability for the year of assessment follow-the year of arrival is on the basis of the whole of the remittances arriving in the United Kingdom in the year of assessment but the assessment will be restricted if necessary to the full amount of pay arising in India in that year.

UNITED KINGDOM INCOME-TAX

Visitors from the Dominions and Foreign Countries.

The following is an outline of the position of visitors to the United Kingdom who are not domiciled there and who may incur liability to United Kingdom income-tax* —

(1) Liability to tax on income arising in the United Kingdom.—All income arising from sources within the United Kingdom (with the exception of interest from certain† Government securities such as the 5 per cent War Loan Stock, 1929—47, to which special privileges are attached) is chargeable to United Kingdom income-tax.

(2) Liability to tax on income arising abroad.—No part of a visitor's income from sources outside the United Kingdom is subject to United Kingdom income-tax unless he is chargeable as a person residing in the United Kingdom. The circumstances in which he may become so chargeable and the extent of his liability are indicated below.

(3) What constitutes "residence".—(a) A visitor who maintains no place of abode in the United Kingdom and whose visits are not habitual but occasional only is not regarded as resident in the United Kingdom unless he has been in the United Kingdom for a period or periods equal in the whole to six months in the Income-tax year (beginning 6th April).

(b) If, however, he maintains a place of abode in the United Kingdom, available for his use, he is regarded as resident for any year in which he pays a visit, of whatever length, to the United Kingdom.

(c) Moreover, even though he does not maintain a place of abode in the United Kingdom available for his use, and does not stay for six months in any one year, he is regarded as becoming resident if he visits the United Kingdom year after year (so that his visits become in effect part of his habit of life) and the annual visits are for a substantial period or periods of time. The question of residence in any particular case can only be determined by reference to the facts of the case. But it can be said that the Board of Inland Revenue would normally regard an average annual period or periods amounting to three months as "substantial" and the visits as having become "habitual" after four years. And, where the visitor's arrangements indicated from the start that regular visits for substantial periods were to be made, he would be regarded as resident in and from the first year.

(4) Extent of liability to tax on income arising abroad.—A visitor who thus becomes chargeable as a resident is liable not on the whole of his income arising abroad but only on so much of that income as is received in or remitted to the United Kingdom.

In order to assist intending visitors in ascertaining their position the Board of Inland Revenue will be glad to express their opinion on the facts of any case being submitted to them by letter addressed to the Secretary, Board of Inland Revenue, Somerset House, London, W.C. 2. It should be added that a visitor who is charged to income-tax in respect of his income arising abroad has the right of appeal to the Appeal Commissioners and, on a point of law, to the Courts, both in the question of residence and as the question of the amount of the income-tax liability.

* NOTE 1.—A special arrangement with regard to Income-tax exists between the United Kingdom and the Irish Free State and this arrangement so far as it deals with the extent of liability to United Kingdom Income-tax must not be taken as applicable to persons resident or receiving income arising in the Irish Free State.

† NOTE 2.—The British Government undertook in the Hilferding which certain special privileges referred to are attached now include 3½ per cent War Loan (formerly 3 per cent War Loan 1929-47), 4 per cent Funding Loan and 4 per cent Victory Bonds.

Additional Deputy Secretary to Government.

PRESS COMMUNIQUÉ.

Fort St. George, May 26, 1938.

The dispute between the Madras Electric Tramways, Limited, and the Tramway and Electric Supply Workers' Association, Madras, on the question of re-engagement of five ex-employees of the Madras Electric Tramways, Limited, was, in pursuance of an agreement between the parties dated the 5th instant referred for determination to the Hon'ble Mr. Justice V. Pandrang Row as Arbitrator. The Arbitrator has now given his Award and copies of the Award have been forwarded by him to both the parties.

2. The Government commend the Award to the acceptance of the parties and hope that they will carry out the terms of the award so as to avoid all further friction.

The Government thank the Hon'ble Mr. Justice V. Pandrang Row for his undertaking the arbitration.

AWARD.

The Madras Tramways Arbitration.

The parties to this arbitration are the Madras Electric Tramways (1904), Limited (hereinafter referred to as the Company), represented by the Agent and Chief Engineer, Mr. Burkinshaw, and the Tramways and Electric Supply Workers' Association, Madras (hereinafter referred to as the Union) represented by its President, Mr. K. Venkateswami Nayudu.

2. The issue framed by the parties in their deed of submission to arbitration runs as follows:—

> "Were the five persons, M. Natesa Mudaliyar, M. Annaswami Mudaliyar, M. Natesa Nayakar, A. Ramanathan, and R. E. Ethirajulu (ex-employees of the Madras Electric Tramways (1904), Limited, not re-engaged for unsatisfactory performance of their duties, which includes conduct, or were they victimized for association with the Labour Union and the strike of March 1937?"

3. The Company's case is that these five ex-employees were included among the eight men whom the Agent declined to re-engage after the strike because (1) their service record was unsatisfactory, and (2) for many months immediately preceding the strike there were repeated complaints and reports against them from the Company's Inspectors of acts of insolence and insubordination, and such conduct was undermining discipline among the employees generally. The case of the Union is that the services of these five employees were dispensed with on account of their having been prominent officials of the Union—Natesa Mudaliyar being the Vice-President, A. Ramanathan being the Secretary, and the other three being members of the Executive Committee of the Union—and on account of the prominent part they took in the activities of the Union and in the strike of March 1937.

4. The inquiry was begun on Monday, the 9th May 1938, and closed early on Friday, the 13th May 1938. The taking of evidence on both sides took over three working days, while the arguments of counsel who appeared for the parties took a little over two hours. I am obliged to the learned counsel for their valuable assistance, and in particular to Mr. Nugent Grant who was ever ready on behalf of the Company to place before me every material document required for the purpose of inquiry.

5. Mr. Grant in his opening speech briefly described the formation of the three unions of workers and their varying fortunes, and gave me an idea of the events which led to the strike and the decision regarding the five employees in question. The salient facts stated in the opening speech are as follows:—

> There was a "lightning strike" early in the morning of 2nd March 1937 following on the dismissal of the General Secretary of the Union the previous day at 3 p.m. by Mr. Elphick who was in charge during the temporary absence of the Agent from Madras from 26th February. I may mention in parenthesis that it is not for me to decide whether this dismissal amounted to "victimization" as contended on behalf of the Union; though some porting of the evidence relates to this dismissal I shall not touch upon it, but confine myself to the single issue which I have to decide. In spite of the fact that only three workers out of the 220 men of the morning shift presented themselves for work at 5 a.m., the administration was able to begin working the trams in full strength by 9 a.m., and the workers began to drift back that very day and on the following two days, and they were taken back as they came without any penalty. All except 155 men had returned by the evening of the 4th March. the Agent was expected to return to Madras the next morning, and for his information a list of the 155 men was prepared and 41 names in that list were ticked in blue pencil to indicate workers who during their whole service had attempted to undermine discipline. This selection was made by Mr. Elphick on the advice of Messrs. Krishna Ayyar and Landemann. Mr. Grant went on to say that the Agent had exhibited great patience and shown much kindness to the workmen, and that these three subordinates knew that it would be difficult to persuade the Agent not to re-engage so many as 41 men. With this view red marks were assigned to 9 out of the 41 as being the worst of the bunch, and the names of these 9 were given to the Agent on his arrival.

6. What happened thereafter can best be described in the words of the Agent himself.

> "When I returned from Calcutta I said to my staff I wanted to re-employ as many as possible; they said there were some whose previous record was so bad that they did not want them. I wanted a list of such persons, they gave me a list of nine persons. . . . I accepted these names, and I acted on the list which I had copied out when I saw the men (on 8th March). I now see I made a mistake in not copying out one name. Mr. Elphick said that there was a long black list which had been pared down to an irreducible minimum."

7 The evidence on the point leaves no doubt in my mind that the selection of these workmen who were thus singled out for what was tantamount to dismissal when all the other strikers—nearly 150 in number—were re-engaged was really the work of Mr. Krishna Ayyar, and that his selection was accepted almost as a matter of routine by Mr. Elphick, and subsequently by the Agent. Mr. Krishna Ayyar's own admission is clear on the point, and I need not dwell on the other evidence. He says "I was really responsible for the selection of the nine men who were the worst, and who were not re-engaged" Mr. Krishna Ayyar began his service 35 years ago as a conductor, and he is now Traffic Superintendent This fact alone shows that his selection must have been given full weight by his superiors when they accepted it and acted upon it without any independent examination or inquiry. Mr Krishna Ayyar says "I made out a list of 41 before Mr Elphick consulted me. I made the list on 4th March 1937. I was collecting information even before 4th March 1937, i e , from 2nd March 1937. I gave my list to Mr. Elphick and he tick-marked the 41 men in Exhibit C (the list of 155 men on strike) . . Mr. Elphick said that the number 41 was too large and asked me to bring down the number. I accordingly singled out the worst men—i.e., the nine men. . . none of us looked into the history-sheets at the time when the nine men were picket out." It is thus clear that the previous service record of these nine men selected for dismissal had really nothing to do with the actual selection made by Mr. Krishna Ayyar and accepted in toto by his superiors. I may also add that the history-sheets of these nine men are not particularly blacker than those of some other workmen which I had an opportunity to read.

8. As regards the other reason alleged for the dismissal, viz., the persistent bad conduct on the line, i.e , while at work, the evidence put before me does not, in my opinion, substantiate this allegation. The complaints and reports said to have been received against the men from the Company's inspectors have not been put before me, and not a single Inspector has been tendered as a witness to give at least oral evidence of such complaints and reports, or of any instance of bad conduct on the line on the part of any of these men. The charge itself is general and details are wanting. The five workmen who gave evidence were not cross-examined at all about their alleged bad conduct on the line. These men were never told of this allegation against them either before they were dismissed or at the time of dismissal or even for a very long time thereafter, nor were they heard in their defence In fact the elementary rule that no one should be condemned unheard was not observed in their case; they were not only condemned without being told what the charge against them was and without being given an opportunity of defending themselves, but they were not even told ex post facto why they had been condemned. Neither at the "parade" of the men on the 8th March, nor in the replies to intercessions made on their behalf was it ever said that it was persistent bad conduct on the line which disentitled these select few to the treatment accorded to their fellow-strikers—147 in number—who were taken back. Apart from a sense of fairness, considerations of worldly prudence at least demanded that these few men who were pointedly excluded from the general amnesty in the presence of their fellow workers should be told why an exception was made in their case; but this was not done, and they were left to "burst in ignorance" of the reason for the invidious distinction made against them.

9. The reference in Mr. Srinivasa Ayyar's letter of the 8th March which was sent to the Agent before the latter announced his decision at the "parade," to the fact that the position of the members of the Executive Committee of the Union perhaps stood on a footing different from that of the other strikers, was sufficiently pointed to call for an express declaration that the exclusion of the few who were excluded from the general amnesty was not due to their Union activities but to their bad conduct as workmen. Mr. Srinivasa Ayyar himself admits that he made this reference because he thought the strike was due to the Union and the Executive Committee was specially responsible for the strike, and because he anticipated that on this ground there might be discrimination against the members of the Executive Committee which he desired to avert After the Agent had pronounced his decision he saw the Agent and asked him whether he was aware that some of the eight men were members of the Executive Committee of the Union. The reply of the Agent was a wave of the hands and the words "I never thought of the Union at all." But even on subsequent occasions when intercession was made on behalf of these men the Agent merely said in his written replies that he could not alter the decision already made by him, and did not say that the exclusion was because of bad conduct.

10. It was emphatically asserted by Mr. Venkataswami Naydu, the President of the Union, in his evidence that it was only after the "hunger strike" of March 1938, i.e., a year after the decision of 8th March 1937, when the Government showed an inclination to intervene, that bad conduct was given out as the reason for the decision, though "victimization" was charged against the company much earlier. Mr. Jagannatha Das pointed out in this connexion that there was no reference to "bad conduct" in the issue as stated in the Government's communiqué. He further laid stress on the fact that the selection of the nine men was made not out of the entire body of workers—about 700 in number—but only out of the 155 workers still out on strike when the selection was made He also pointed out that out of the eight men originally dismissed three who were not office bearers in the union were taken back shortly afterwards while the remaining five men with whom we are now concerned are all of them office bearers in the union. But this, according to Mr. Grant, is a mere coincidence.

11 Some stress was laid by Mr. Grant on the reference to the "black record" of the seven men on whose behalf Mr Basudev was interceding in his letter to the Agent, dated the 8th April 1937. Mr. Basudev has not been examined as a witness, and I am not satisfied that Mr. Basudev meant "bad conduct as workmen" when he referred to the "black record" and not their activities during the strike. If he meant "bad conduct on the line" when he used the phrase "black record," the very next sentence in his letter, viz., "I only beg of you to look upon them as more sinned against than sinning" becomes inexplicable, for, how can men guilty of bad conduct as workmen be regarded as being more sinned against than sinning? The whole trend of Mr. Basudev's letter shows that the dominant idea in his mind was that the seven men had been punished on account of their activities in the strike, and that such activities should be pardoned because they had been misled by "trained communist propagandists."

12. It follows from what I have said that the company's case as regards the reasons for the refusal to re-engage the five men has not been made out. It remains for me to consider whether the union's case that the real reason was the activities of these men in union affairs and in the strike has been made out. The direct evidence put forward in support of the union's case is that of the five workmen themselves and the General Secretary of the Union. Their evidence is obviously interested, but after making due allowance for this it seems to me that it is in substance worthy of acceptance. Mr. Natesa Mudaliyar in particular impressed me favourably. The oral evidence shows that Mr. Krishna Ayyar used, before the strike, to warn the five dismissed men about their union activities, and to attempt to wean them from such activities by threats or promises. Details of such incidents were given by the witnesses; but I need not reproduce them here. The evidence is also generally to the effect that it was Mr Krishna Ayyar who got them dismissed because of their activities in union affairs and during the strike. This is denied by Mr. Krishna Ayyar and I have to choose between the evidence of the workers and that of Mr Krishna Ayyar on this point. I must say that Mr. Krishna Ayyar did not impress me favourably as a witness; in particular, I am unable to accept his testimony to the effect that he did not know if the five dismissed men held any office in the union though he had known them ever since they entered the service. Mr Grant attempted to minimise the part played by Mr Krishna Ayyar and put him in the background by suggesting that he is "a stupid man." This suggestion is sufficiently refuted by Mr Krishna Ayyar's own career, and I am unable to accept this suggestion which seeks to uphold Mr. Krishna Ayyar's veracity at the expense of his intelligence, because Mr Grant himself conceded in his reply that Mr Krishna Ayyar "might have known that the five were members of the Executive Committee" though Mr Krishna Ayyar himself in his evidence denied such knowledge. How can it be seriously urged that a stupid man does not know the difference between truth and falsehood?

13. It is clear to my mind that it was Mr. Krishna Ayyar, and he alone, who was responsible for the idea of taking advantage of the strike situation to get rid of the men who had become obnoxious to him on account of their Union activities and their strike propaganda. The original "proscription list" of 41 prepared by him was too large as Mr. Elphick must have told him, and it was cut down to nine because it was known that the Agent was too soft-hearted to agree to the dismissal of as many as 41 workers at one stroke. I use the word "dismiss" instead of the periphrase "refuse to re-engage," not only because in effect the two mean the same thing but even in the Agent's own letters the men are referred to as "dismissed" men. The decision was to dismiss the men; it was a punitive measure employed against some of the strikers before the strike had come to an end. In short, the "thunderbolt" of dismissal followed the "lightning" strike; the one can no more be dissociated from the other than the effect from its cause.

14. I am unable to believe that the dismissals would have been made if there had been no strike, or that they would have been made in the manner in which they were made without the usual notice and inquiry—had there been no strike. Dismissals are admittedly very rare, and they were never made without notice or inquiry before. There was no notice in this case, and there is no record of any inquiry. The red tick marks in the list, Exhibit C, are the only documentary evidence relating to these dismissals, and those marks convey no intrinsic meaning apart from the oral evidence relating to them. The unusual procedure, or, rather, the omission to follow the usual procedure, in the case of the present dismissals, taken along with the paramount, outstanding fact of a pending strike makes it impossible for me to believe that the strike activities of the dismissed men counted for nothing in the mind of Mr. Krishna Ayyar.

15. Though the dismissals were voiced by the Agent they were really the handiwork of Mr. Krishna Ayyar, and Mr. Krishna Ayyar's notions of "bad conduct" of workmen were not the same as those of the Agent. If "bad conduct" had been mentioned to the Agent on his return from Calcutta as the reason for not re-engaging the nine men the Agent probably understood it to mean something very different from what it meant to Mr. Krishna Ayyar who it was that actually made the selection.

16. Heads of large commercial undertakings employing much skilled labour are clear-sighted enough, either to feel no antagonism towards unions of their employees, or to repress such a feeling in their dealings with their employees, but men of smaller mould with less responsibility and with less clear-sight may entertain different views and even look upon such unions as unmitigated evils to be got rid of by all lawful means whenever a suitable opportunity occurs. The trouble comes, and with it suffering also, when the latter succeed in taking advantage of a momentary irritation in the minds of those placed in supreme authority to give effect to their new ideas of advancing the interests of their common employers.

17. I have no doubt in my mind that Mr. Burkinshaw was absolutely sincere in declaring his faith in trade-unionism and his affection for the workers under him, and in asserting that the fact that a workman was an office-bearer in his Union never counted against him in his mind. But it does not follow—and the evidence fails to satisfy me—that the staff on whom he relied—and in particular Mr. Krishna Ayyar—had the same faith and felt the same affection, or adopted the same attitude towards workmen who were office-bearers in their Union. In any case, the members of the staff examined in this inquiry made no such confession of faith as Mr. Burkinshaw did.

18. In refuting the charge of victimisation Mr. Grant made an observation the drift of which was not clear to my mind. He said "In March 1937, Mr. Burkinshaw was absolutely free to victimize, though now he is not owing to changed political conditions." I have tried hard to appreciate the drift of this observation and I have failed to understand how it helps the Company's case. If Mr Grant had in his mind the legal right to victimize, then the changed political conditions cannot have extinguished that right, as a change in political conditions involves no change in the law which defines the rights of individual citizens. If, on the other hand, what was meant in effect was that victimization could be indulged in with impunity in March 1937, but not now owing to changed political conditions, I fail to see how this can be relied upon as a circumstance showing that there was no victimization in March 1937. I doubt whether Mr. Burkinshaw put it to himself in March 1937 that he was absolutely free to victimize his workmen, or I have correctly gauged his views on the subject of victimization, he would never have claimed or exercised the "freedom to victimize" either in March 1937 or at any other time, but would have instinctively shrunk from the idea of deliberate victimization at all times as something essentially unfair

He always tried to be fair to his workmen and was even kind to them; he fostered "his" trade-unions. I am convinced that this attitude of his was not a mere pose, but was part and parcel of his innermost convictions, some of the dismissed workmen examined in this inquiry—notably Mr. Natesa Mudaliyar—have paid an ungrudging tribute to his patience and kindness up to the time of the strike.

19. The present case appears to be one in which, to employ the language applied by Mr Baundev to the dismissed men, the Agent was "more sinned against than sinning"; his hand appears to have been forced by his subordinates, and by Mr. Krishna Ayyar in particular, on the occasion of a strike which had suddenly broken out during his temporary absence. Mr. Burkinshaw is, in my judgment, entitled to be absolved personally from any intention to victimize any of his workers, though his responsibility as Agent for the victimization that has actually taken place remains. The case is analogous to that of an innocent Agent being made to do something wrong without actually knowing at the time that he was doing anything that was wrong. At the same time I am satisfied by the evidence and the probabilities of the case that the five men in question were actually "victimized" for their association with the Union and the strike, in the sense that such association was the real reason for their not being re-engaged along with their fellow-strikers.

20. I therefore decide and determine that the five persons mentioned in the issue were not re-engaged, not for unsatisfactory performance of their duties, which includes conduct, and that they were victimized for association with the Labour Union and the strike of March 1937, and I make my award accordingly.

MADRAS COMMERCE REPORT FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1938.

The month of April was an eventful one in the sphere of international politics it having witnessed the conclusion of the Anglo-Italian Agreement. The political developments have not, however, changed present economic trends and there are no signs that the slight but steady deterioration on the world economic front has been arrested. On the contrary, there is ample evidence that the recession in world production, trade and prices has continued. The business position in the United States which is the key to the world international commodity situation, continued depressed during April with trade and industrial reports showing no general improvement and business failing to show any material spring recovery. The index of business activity in that country has dropped to the lowest level for the current trade recession and is now running 20 ½ per cent below a year ago. "The Economist" index of business activity in the United Kingdom has fallen almost without interruption since September last. There has, however, been a more cheerful atmosphere at times during the period under review, the main factor having been the decision of President Roosevelt to embark upon reflationary measures on a large scale and in addition to increasing public expenditure to deteriorate part of the inactive Gold Fund, and at the same time to reduce the reserve requirements of member banks of the Federal Reserve System. It is probable that a spending policy of such magnitude, involving not only direct Government expenditure on a large scale, but also the making available of a very considerable volume of credit for undertakings great and small will bring about some recovery in business activity towards the end of the year when the programme begins to get under way. At present, however, the immediate tendency of business activity is downward despite the expansion in armament work, and although the decline is slow and is disguised to some extent by the normal seasonal upswing, it is none the less unmistakable, though commodity prices appear to discount substantial further recession. Commodities in which Madras is interested made a somewhat mixed showing during the month of April. Cotton was fairly steady though the influence of the American new spending programme seems to have worn off and prices of some varieties weakened a little. There was a fair demand for Indian mill yarn. A better demand was in evidence for Indian mill cloth, both retail and wholesale, and there was some liquidation of stocks though there is still considerable room for improvement in market conditions. There was a good demand for tanned hides and prices were well maintained. The tanned goat skins and tanned sheep skins markets, however, were lifeless and prices weakened further. Groundnuts were weak in the early part of the month, but subsequently foreign demand improved and prices appreciated and closed slightly higher at the end of April. In regard to the outlook for oil seeds for 1938, it would appear that in general supplies will be plentiful and actually in excess of the consuming capacity of the United States and Europe. The excess supply has probably been fully discounted in the low prices now ruling and if there is an over-production in 1938, the disappearance of a large proportion of the surplus into consumption may be expected during the year. Prices of paddy and rice continued steady throughout the month. The pepper market opened weak, but improved owing to inquiry from Karachi and Calcutta though lack of demand was again in evidence towards the end of the month. The international pepper market appears to be gradually returning to more normal conditions after the disturbance in 1935. Stocks of the London pepper pool have now been reduced to about half of what they were in 1935 and if liquidation proceeds at the same rate, the task of the pool in liquidating stocks should be completed by 1940. Owing to lack of Indian and European demand, the Calicut ginger market declined and closed weak. The Calicut coir yarn market remained fairly steady during the month, though there was some weakness in Beypore yarns at one period. The market for Cochin coir yarns was lifeless and prices receded. Copra and coconut oil were weak in the early part of the month, but subsequently improved and closed higher. The sugar market was firm and Madras prices improved by a few annas per cwt., the market closing steady but dull. The demand for locally manufactured acids and chemicals were not so good as in previous months. Tea producers will regret the further increase in the tea duty on the broad grounds that it will militate against expansion in consumption of tea in the main market, but though the new duty may tend to prevent expanding consumption in Britain, it does not follow that it will reduce the existing uptake. Rubber moved very erratically during April, support for trade requirements not showing signs of an early expansion and speculative interest being lacking. A substantial recovery in consuming demand in the United States will be necessary before the outlook for the grower can be regarded with more confidence.

GROUNDNUTS.

Prices of groundnuts declined during the early part of the month due to moderate arrivals of new crop and absence of foreign demand. Subsequently, quotations improved slightly due to renewed enquiries and better demand from European exporting firms and prices recorded a further slight improvement during the remainder of the month. The average wholesale prices of standard varieties at the main producing centres were as follows:—

	Per candy of 523 lb.
28th March 1938 ..	Rs 20-0-0 to Rs 22-0-0
29th April 1938 ..	Rs. 20-4-0 to Rs. 22-4-0

Paddy and Rice.

With moderate arrivals and normal demand, the paddy and rice markets continued steady throughout the month although towards the end of the period prices for inferior varieties showed a rising tendency in sympathy with the Rangoon market. The average wholesale prices of standard varieties at the main producing centres were as follows —

	Indian paddy per bag of 170 lb.
25th March 1938 ..	Rs 4-1-0 to Rs 4-12-0
28th April 1938 ..	Rs 4-3-0 to Rs. 4-13-0

	Indian rice per bag of 170 lb.
25th March 1938 ..	Rs 6-8-0 to Rs 7-4-1
29th April 1938 ..	Rs. 6-8-0 to Rs. 7-5-0

	Rangoon rice, raw, broken, A-1 per bag of 250 lb.
31st March 1938 ..	Rs 7-14-0	Madras.
29th April 1938 ..	Rs 7-10-0

	Calcutta rice (Nemai) boiled per bag of 164 lb.
31st March 1938 ..	Rs 7-0-0	Madras.
28th April 1938 ..	Rs 6-12-0

Coconut Products.

On account of fair European and Indian demand for soaked and fair European demand for unsoaked, the Calicut coir yarn market remained steady throughout April, though Beypore yarn dropped slightly towards the end of the month due to diminished Indian demand. There was a poor demand for Cochin coir yarns and the market was lifeless. The demand for copra and coconut oil was weak during the early part of the month and prices recorded a further fall. Subsequently a brisk demand set in from Bombay and Karachi and prices improved steadily and closed higher.

Cotton

Tinnevelly.—The rainy weather continued throughout April resulting in heavy damage to the yield and quality of the first crop. The outlook for the second crop, on the other hand, improved considerably and prospects at the end of the month were better than normal. Arrivals into the market were restricted owing partly to the generally low level of prices and partly to the rains. The quality of arrivals was unsatisfactory. Kapas picked before the rains is being retained in the villages and will probably not be brought on to the market until the damaged low grades are disposed of. Demand was mainly on account of South Indian mills and small quantities only were sold to Europe and North Indian mills. The average price at the beginning of the month was Rs. 165 per candy of 784 lb. for ginpressed cotton seed remained fairly steady throughout the month closing at Rs 163

Karunganni in Coimbatore began to be received in the market in April and was of normal good quality. The yield, however, is expected to be considerably lower than last year. Best karunganni opened the season at about Rs. 220 and declined to Rs 205 per candy of 784 lb. unpressed at the end of the month.

Cambodia.—Arrivals of cambodia from the Coimbatore district increased considerably during April and the crop may be considered to be fully harvested as regards quality. Arrivals from Salem continued and showed no change as regards quality. There was a good demand for cambodia of all grades throughout the month from Coimbatore and other South Indian mills, but no business was transacted for export or with North Indian mills as prices were considered too high. Best Tirupur cambodia declined in the course of the month from Rs. 220 to about Rs. 210, whilst Salem cambodia remained fairly steady around Rs. 180 per candy of 784 lb unpressed.

Sugar.

The market was firm during the early part of April consequent on an improved demand. The Indian sugar syndicate adjusted prices for several mills according to sales made against quotas allotted during the last selling period and rates for some mills were reduced and for others increased slightly. Madras prices improved by a few annas per cwt. The market closed steady but dull with dealers awaiting the announcement of the new selling prices of the syndicate. Arrivals were heavy and stocks at the end of the month were estimated at about 10,000 bags. Madras prices of North Indian sugars ranged from Rs 22-6-0 to Rs 23-12-0 per bag of two cwts. in April as compared with Rs. 22-2-0 to Rs. 23-6-0 in March. In up country markets, arrivals were heavy, but as demand from consuming centres was fair prices ruled steady with little or no change.

Tanned Hides and Skins.

Tanned hides.—There was a good demand for tanned hides during April and in spite of the Easter holidays when in some cases carriers were closed for as long as ten days, prices were well maintained throughout the month on the following basis:—

Primes 5/5½ lb, 14½d., Primes 8½ lb 12½d., Cocos 7½ lb. 12½d.

Tanned goat and tanned sheep skins.—The market was lifeless during April, only a very few forward orders having been placed. In the previous year, April proved to be one of the best months and forward orders were being placed freely with prices exhibiting an upward tendency. The public sales of tanned goat and tanned sheep skins were due to commence in London on 2nd May and the results of the auction were awaited before entering into further business. Fortunately, stocks in the Madras markets are not very large at present as several shipments have gone forward to London on a consignment basis.

Shipments during April were as follows:—

2. Tenders must be submitted in sealed covers, and should be addressed to the Executive Engineer, Kistna Central Division, the name of the tenderer and the name of the work being noted on the cover.

If the tender is made by an individual, it shall be signed with his full name and his address shall be given. If it is made by a firm, it shall be signed with the co-partnership name by a member of the firm, who shall also sign his own name, and the name and address of each member of the firm shall be given. If the tender is made by a corporation, it shall be signed by a duly authorized officer who shall produce with his tender, satisfactory evidence of his authorization. Such tendering corporation may be required, before the contract is executed, to furnish evidence of its corporate existence.

3. Each tenderer must pay, as earnest money, a sum of rupees one hundred and twenty only into the branch of the Imperial Bank of India or into the Government treasury or sub-treasury within the jurisdiction of the Executive Engineer concerned to the credit of Revenue deposits on behalf of the Executive Engineer of the Kistna Central Division and enclose with his tender the chalan endorsed accordingly. This earnest money will be refunded to the unsuccessful tenderer on application, after intimation is sent of rejection of the tender or at the expiration of two months from date of tender, whichever is earlier. This refund will be authorised by the Executive Engineer by suitable endorsement on the chalan. The earnest money will not be received in cash or currency notes by the Public Works Department Officers, save in exceptional cases, where there are no treasuries or banks within the jurisdiction of the officer calling for tenders. When currency notes are given, the tenderer should sign his name in full with date, on the back of all the currency notes given by him, whatever their denominations may be.

The earnest money will be retained in the case of the successful tenderer and will not carry any interest. It will be dealt with as provided in the tender.

4. When a tender is to be accepted, the tenderer whose tender is under consideration shall attend the Division office on the date fixed by written intimation to him. He shall forthwith upon intimation being given to him by the Executive Engineer of acceptance of his tender make a security deposit of rupees one hundred and twenty only in one of the forms prescribed in the Madras Public Works Account Code and sign an agreement in the proper departmental form for the due fulfilment of the contract. This security deposit together with the earnest money and the amount withheld according to clause 68 of the Standard Preliminary Specification of the Madras Detailed Standard Specifications shall be retained as security for the due fulfilment of this contract. If a cash security deposit is made by the contractor he shall follow the procedure laid down in the preceding paragraph for payment of earnest money and such deposit will not bear interest. Failure to attend the Division office on the date fixed in the written intimation from such office or to enter into the required agreement or to make the security deposit as defined in this paragraph shall entail forfeiture of the earnest money.

5. The tenderer shall examine closely, the Madras Detailed Standard Specifications, and also the Standard Preliminary Specification contained therein, and sign the Divisional Office copy of the Madras Detailed Standard Specifications and its addenda volume in token of such study before submitting his tender unit rates which shall be for finished work in situ. He shall also carefully study the drawings and additional specifications and all the documents which form part of the agreement to be entered into by the accepted tenderer. The Madras Detailed Standard Specifications and other documents connected with the contract such as specifications, plans, descriptive specification sheet regarding materials, etc., can be seen at any time between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. on office days, in the office of the Executive Engineer, Kistna Central Division.

6. The tenderer's attention is directed to the requirements for materials under the clause "Materials and workmanship" in the "Preliminary Specification." Materials conforming to the British Standard Specifications shall be used on the work, and the tenderer shall quote his rates accordingly.

7. Every tenderer is expected, before quoting his rates to inspect the site of the proposed work. He should also inspect the quarries, and satisfy himself about the quality and availability of materials. The names of quarries, kilns, etc., wherefrom certain materials are to be obtained will be given in the Descriptive Specification Sheet. The best class of materials to be obtained from the quarries or other source defined shall be used on the work. In every case the materials must comply with the relevant standard specifications. Samples of materials as called for in the standard specifications, or in this tender notice, or as required by the Executive Engineer in any case, shall be submitted for the Executive Engineer's approval before the supply to site of work is begun. If the contractor, after examination of the source of materials defined in the Descriptive Specification Sheet, is of opinion that materials complying with the standard or other specifications of the contract cannot be obtained in quality or sufficient quantity from the source defined in the Descriptive Specification Sheet, he shall so state clearly in his tender and state wherefrom he intends to obtain materials, subject to the approval of the Executive Engineer.

The Government will not, however, after acceptance of a contract rate pay any extra charges for lead or for any other reason, in case the contractor is found later on to have misjudged the materials available. Attention of the contractor is directed to the standard "Preliminary Specification" regarding payment of seigniorage, tolls, etc.

8. The tenderer's particular attention is drawn to the sections and clauses in the standard "Preliminary Specification" dealing with—

(1) Test, inspection and rejection of defective materials and work.
(2) Carriage.
(3) Construction plant.
(4) Water and lighting.
(5) Cleaning up during progress and for delivery.
(6) Accidents.
(7) Delays.
(8) Particulars of payment.
(9) Liability and responsibility.

The contractor should closely peruse all the specification clauses which govern the rates which he is tendering.

9. A schedule of quantities accompanies this tender notice. It shall be definitely understood that the Government does not accept any responsibility for the correctness or completeness of this schedule and that this schedule is liable to alterations by omissions, deductions, or additions at the discretion of the Executive Engineer, Kistna Central Division, or as set forth in the conditions of contract. The tenderer will, however, base his lump-sum tender on this schedule of quantities. He should quote specific rates for each item in the schedule, and the rates should be in rupees, annas, and in terms of three pies. The rates should be written both in words and figures and the units in words. The tenderer should also show the totals of each item and the grand total of the whole contract, and quote in the tender a lump sum for which he will undertake to do the whole work subject to the conditions of contract, such lump sum agreeing with the total amount of Schedule A. This schedule accompanying the lump-sum tender shall be written legibly and free from erasures, overwritings or conversions of figures. Corrections, where unavoidable, should be made by crossing out, initialling, dating and rewriting.

10. Tenders offering a percentage deduction from or increase on the estimate amount, and those not submitted in proper form or in due time will be rejected. Rates or lump-sum amounts for items not called for shall not be included in the tender. No alteration which is made by the tenderer in the contract form, the conditions of contract, the drawings, specifications, or quantities accompanying same will be recognized, and, if any such alterations are made, the tender will be void.

11. The tenderer should work out his own rates, without reference being made to the Public Works Department current schedule of rates or to the Public Works Department estimate rates which are not open for inspection by tenderers.

12. The attention of the tenderers is directed to the contract requirements as to the time of beginning work the rate of progress, and the dates for the completion of the whole work and its several parts. The following rate of progress and proportionate value of work done from time to time, as will be indicated by the Executive Engineer's certificates of the value of work done, will be required. Date of commencement of this programme will be the date on which the site (or premises) is handed over to the contractor.

Period after date of commencement and percentage of work completed (based on contract lump-sum amount):—

Three months—40 per cent.
Six months—70 per cent.
Nine months—100 per cent.

13. No part of the contract shall be sublet without written permission of the Executive Engineer nor shall transfer be made by power-of-attorney authorising others to receive payment on the contractor's behalf.

14. If further necessary information is required, the Executive Engineer of the Division will furnish such, but it must be clearly understood that tenders must be received in order, and according to instructions.

15. The Executive Engineer or other sanctioning authority reserves the right to reject any tender or all the tenders without assigning any reason therefor.

He shall forthwith upon intimation being given to him by the Executive Engineer of acceptance of his tender make a security deposit of Rs. 440

(rupees four hundred and forty only) in one of the forms prescribed in the Madras Public Works Account Code and sign an agreement on the proper departmental form for the due fulfilment of the contract. This security deposit, together with the earnest money and the amount withheld according to clause 68 of the Standard Preliminary Specification of the Madras Detailed Standard Specifications shall be retained as security for the due fulfilment of this contract. If a cash security deposit is made by the contractor he shall follow the procedure laid down in the preceding paragraph for payment of earnest money and such deposit will not bear interest. Failure to attend the Division office on the date fixed in the written intimation from such office or to enter into the required agreement or to make the security deposit as defined in this paragraph shall entail forfeiture of the earnest money. The written agreement to be entered into between the contractor and the Government shall be the foundation of the rights of both the parties and the contract shall not be deemed to be complete until the agreement has first been signed by the contractor and then by the proper officer authorized to enter into contracts on behalf of Government.

5. The tenderer shall examine closely, the Madras Detailed Standard Specifications, and also the Standard Preliminary Specification contained therein, and sign the Divisional Office copy of the Madras Detailed Standard Specifications and its addenda volume in token of such study before submitting his tender unit rates which shall be for finished work in situ. He shall also carefully study the drawings and additional specifications and all the documents which form part of the agreement to be entered into by the accepted tenderer. The Madras Detailed Standard Specifications and other documents connected with the contract such as specifications, plans, descriptive specification sheet regarding materials, etc., can be seen at any time between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. on office days, in the office of the Executive Engineer, Cauvery Division.

6. The tenderer's attention is directed to the requirements for materials under the clause "Materials and workmanship" in the "Preliminary Specification". Materials conforming to the British Standard Specifications shall be used on the work, and the tenderer shall quote his rates accordingly.

7. Every tenderer is expected, before quoting his rates, to inspect the site of the proposed work. He should also inspect the quarries, and satisfy himself about the quality and availability of materials. The names of quarries, kilns, etc., wherefrom certain materials are to be obtained will be given in the Descriptive Specification Sheet. The best class of materials to be obtained from the quarries or other source defined shall be used on the work. In every case the materials must comply with the relevant standard specification. Samples of materials as called for in the standard specifications, or in the tender notice, or as required by the Executive Engineer in any case, shall be submitted for the Executive Engineer's approval before the supply to site of work is begun. If the contractor, after examination of the source of materials defined in the Descriptive Specification Sheet, is of opinion that materials complying with the standard or other specifications of the contract cannot be obtained in quality or sufficient quantity from the source defined in the Descriptive Specification Sheet, he shall so state clearly in his tender and state wherefrom he intends to obtain materials, subject to the approval of the Executive Engineer.

The Government will not, however, after acceptance of a contract rate pay any extra charges for lead or for any other reason, in case the contractor is found later on to have misjudged the materials available. Attention of the contractor is directed to the standard "Preliminary Specification" regarding payment of seigniorage, tolls, etc.

8. The tenderer's particular attention is drawn to the sections and clauses in the standard "Preliminary Specification" dealing with—

(1) test, inspection and rejection of defective materials and work,
(2) carriage,
(3) construction plant,
(4) water and lighting,
(5) cleaning up during progress and for delivery,
(6) accidents,
(7) delays, and
(8) particulars of payment.

The contractor should closely peruse all the specification clauses which govern the rates which he is tendering.

9. A schedule of quantities accompanies this tender notice. It shall be definitely understood that the Government does not accept any responsibility for the correctness or completeness of this schedule, and that this schedule is liable to alterations by additions, deductions, or additions at the discretion of the Executive Engineer, Cauvery Division, or as set forth in the conditions of contract. The tenderer will, however, base his lump-sum tender on this schedule of quantities. He should quote specific rates for each item in the schedule, and the rates should be in rupees, annas, and in sums of three pies. The rates should be written both in words and figures and the units in words. The tenderer should also show the totals of each item and the grand total of the whole contract, and quote in the tender a lump sum for which he will undertake to do the whole work subject to the conditions of contract, such lump sum agreeing with the total amount of Schedule A. This schedule accompanying the lump-sum tender shall be written legibly and free from erasures, overwritings or conversions of figures. Corrections, where unavoidable, should be made by crossing out, initialling, dating and rewriting.

10. Tenders offering a percentage deduction from or increase on the estimate amount, and those not submitted in proper form or in due time will be rejected. Rates or lump-sum amounts for items not called for shall not be included in the tender. No alteration which is made by the tenderer in the contract forms, the conditions of contract, the drawings, specifications, or quantities accompanying same will be recognized; and, if any such alterations are made, the tender will be void.

11. The tenderer should work out his own rates, without reference being made to the Public Works Department current schedule of rates or to the Public Works Department estimate rates which are not open for inspection by tenderers.

12. The price at which and the source from which certain particular materials shall be obtained by the contractor are given at the end of the schedule accompanying the tender form. Tenderers must accept the material at these prices, and shall quote their price for finished work accordingly. Notwithstanding any subsequent change in the market value for these materials, the charge to the contractor will remain as originally entered in the written contract. No cartage or incidental charges will be borne by Government in connexion with this supply.

13. The attention of the tenderers is directed to the contract requirements as to the time of beginning work, the rate of progress, and the dates for the completion of the whole work and its several parts. The following rate of progress and proportionate value of work done from time to time, as will be indicated by the Executive Engineer's certificates of the value of work done, will be required. Date of commencement of this programme will be the date on which the site (or premises) is handed over to the contractor.

By 1st June 1939	100 per cent.

NOTE.—The periods to be entered in column No. 1 for the purpose of defining the rate of progress may be fixed by the Executive Engineer to suit each case.

14. No part of the contract shall be sublet without written permission of the Executive Engineer nor shall transfer be made by power-of-attorney authorizing others to receive payment on the contractor's behalf.

15. If further necessary information is required, the Executive Engineer of the division will furnish such, but it must be clearly understood that tenders must be received in order, and according to instructions.

15. The Executive Engineer or other sanctioning authority reserves the right to reject any tender or all the tenders without assigning any reason therefor.

17. The qualifications of the supervising staff employed by the contractor in the execution of the work will be given due consideration in awarding the contract. The tenderers should therefore state in clear terms, whether they employ such technical staff, and if so, to give the qualifications of such staff and the extent to which they will be employed on the work.

2. The wood has been classified according to the classes noted above. Intending tenderers are advised to inspect in advance the lots put up for sale, but may accept the classification made in the depot as final.

3. Tenders should be superscribed "Tender for sandalwood" and sent by insured post to the Conservator of Forests, Salem Circle, Salem (Madras Presidency), so as to reach him on or before 11 a.m. on Thursday, the 14th July 1938 on which date tenders will be opened.

4. Each tender should be accompanied by an earnest money deposit of Rs 1,000 in the form of a bank draft on the Imperial Bank of India, Salem, in favour of the Conservator of Forests, Salem, from any branch of the Imperial Bank of India Currency notes should not be enclosed A receipted Madras Government treasury challan for the amount will also be accepted.

5. Each tender must specify the rate at so much per ton of 2,240 lb. for each lot of sandalwood desired, both in figures and in words No tender for part of a lot will be accepted.

6. Earnest money deposits of unsuccessful tenderers will be returned immediately after the tenders are disposed of, and that of successful tenderers will be adjusted against the first instalment of the purchase money.

7. Each tenderer if his tendered rate for any particular lot is accepted by the Conservator of Forests, Salem Circle, Salem, will be furnished with a memorandum showing the total amount due from him He shall remit 25 per cent of this money, less the earnest money deposit referred to in paragraph 4 above, into the Imperial Bank of India at Vellore or Madras or the Reserve Bank of India, Madras, within seven days from the date of receipt of the memorandum and another 25 per cent before the 13th August 1938, the balance 50 per cent being paid on or before the 14th September 1938, or against delivery whichever is earlier. Should any successful tenderer fails to make the necessary remittance, by the due dates, the money already remitted will lapse to Government and the District Forest Officer, Vellore West division, Tiruppattur, North Arcot district, will be at liberty to resell the wood in question at the risk of the successful tenderer who shall be liable for any loss, but shall not participate in any profit which may arise by the resale

8. After 50 per cent of the entire sale value has been paid to the credit of the Forest Department, delivery of sandalwood shall be made to the successful tenderer, provided that until full payment has been made, a quantity of wood equivalent to 25 per cent of the full sale value shall remain unremoved but paid for.

The delivery will be by full lots at a time and no lot will be delivered by portions.

9. On the successful tenderer's presenting chalans as proof that 50 per cent of the entire sale value has been paid, a proportion of the wood purchased will be weighed in his or his agent's presence and the quantity handed over to him as provided for in condition 8 supra If, however, proof is produced that the entire sale value has been paid, the whole sandalwood purchased will be weighed and handed over. The successful tenderer must take delivery of and remove the whole of the wood sold to him on or before the 14th October 1938.

Should any excess over the quantity paid for be found in the quantity purchased when weighing at the time of delivery, the excess will be paid for by the successful tenderer at the rate at which it was originally purchased, before effecting removal. If any one successful tenderer has purchased more than one lot or class and if there is any excess in one lot or class and deficit in the other, when weighing at the time of delivery on a particular day, the value of the deficit noticed, calculated at the rate at which the main lot or class was sold will be adjusted towards the value of excess quantity noticed in the other lot or class as the case may be, and the balance, if any, still due from the successful tenderer will be collected before permitting him to remove the quantity delivered during the day. If, however, the net quantity delivered results in a deficit on account of drying over the recorded quantity at the time of tender, the value of the deficit quantity at the tendered rate will be refunded in due course.

10. The successful tenderers, when deputing their agents to take delivery, must furnish each agent with a power-of-attorney duly stamped and bearing the signature of the person so deputed. A copy of the power-of-attorney must also be sent to the District Forest Officer, Vellore West division, Tiruppattur, North Arcot, by post with four specimen signatures of the agent. Failing these, delivery may be refused pending verification, in which case the delay will count against the successful tenderer.

11. No further cleaning or classification of sandalwood will be undertaken by the Forest Department, nor will tenderers be allowed to clean any wood previous to weighment. The classification, cleaning and weighment as determined by the Forest Department must be accepted

12. After the wood has once been weighed and handed over, if the successful tenderer fails to remove all the wood within the period allowed in clause 9, demurrage will be charged at the rate of Rs 2 per ton per diem from the last date fixed for the delivery until the wood is finally removed.

13 No sandalwood shall be removed from the depot till a licence to remove it signed by the officer of the Forest Department who delivered the wood, shall have been obtained and till every piece of sandalwood that can be stamped has been stamped with the district "Sale Hammer".

14 The successful tenderer shall bear the cost of taking delivery of the sandalwood.

15 The tenderer should give at least seven days' notice of his intention to take delivery, to the District Forest Officer, Vellore West, Tiruppattur, supported by Bank remittance in token of payment No delivery may be made on holidays

16. The wood purchased by each successful tenderer shall be in the depot at his risk from the date of acceptance of tender until it is removed. The total quantity of wood offered for sale has, however, been insured against loss or damage by fire or lightning up to 14th October 1938, the last date of delivery, specified in paragraph 2 supra.

17. The Conservator of Forests, Salem Circle, Salem, reserves the right to accept or to reject any tender without assigning any reason

18. Further particulars can be had on application to the District Forest Officer, Vellore West division, Tiruppattur, North Arcot district.
